

A Contest for Architects, Interior Designers, and Others

Participants from Around the World are challenging each other to dramatically redesign accessible housing and public spaces.

ZeroThreshold is a design competition that is about more than creating accessible spaces. We're about elevating the idea of accessibility through intentionally beautiful design.

Share your vision and shape the movement that is addressing the coming senior housing crisis and simultaneously pushing the boundaries of what "accessibility" means and looks like.

Learn more and get the design brief at: ZeroThreshold.org

Join us in challenging the world to think differently about accessibility.

Entrants are encouraged to envision bold and beautiful design ideas in barrier-free living for:

- Housing
- Public Spaces
- Neighborhoods

Who should join the challenge?

Professionals & Students with:

- Ideas "too bold" or innovative for the current market.
Challenge the status quo!
- Fresh ideas about barrier-free spaces.
Submit them!
- A current project that could be adapted or repurposed by pushing the boundaries.
Submit it!
- A desire for greater recognition and creative expression.
Join ZeroThreshold!

Cash awards of $15,000.

But earn so much more – a chance to make a difference.

Winning designers will have the opportunity to adapt their design ideas for build in Cleveland, OH.

A chance to see your vision brought to life and earn additional recognition.

ENTRIES NEEDED BY JUNE 28.

AWARDS CEREMONY SEPTEMBER 19.

FUNDED BY THE CLEVELAND FOUNDATION